

SKS-SKKS splitting discrepancies observed in western North America and implications for anisotropy in the lowermost mantle

Maureen D. Long, Yale University

A very unusual observation of SKS-SKKS splitting discrepancies – likely points to locally unusual anisotropic structure in D'' layer.

WHY???